Commodore's Corner

Ahoy Mates,

Winter is still here, although the days are getting longer. The snow is melting with the promise of plenty of water depth for launching our bigger boats. All that we need now is more warm weather and to get the ice off the lakes. For those of us who were able to escape to some warmer climate and do some boating, the rest of us would like to know how it went.

Please share your stories at our next meeting this Monday, March 17th, which is also St. Patrick's Day. Don't be too shy to wear green. See you then.

Commodore John
